Carefully read the behaviors and descriptions below. Check the box which best describes the student's behaviors.

Behavior	Description of behavior	Almost always 3 points	Usually 2 points	Occasionally 1 point	Never 0 points
Advanced Language	Uses of verbal comparisons and words with multiple syllables: example... "I know that seems obvious"
Analytical thinking	Surprises you with complex, in-depth insights and relationships
Well informed about many topics	Appears to know more than most adults about one or more topics
Perspective	Interprets what influences or motivates others; example... "what he meant was"
Sense of humor	Laughs at incidents that peers do not understand
Sensitivity	Verbally or nonverbally expresses concern for human or naturalistic issues
Accelerated learning	Masters a new skill with unusual speed. Watch for math skills, since math is less influenced by culture or language differences.
